

FISCAL NOTE

HB 610 - SB 1245

March 5, 1997

SUMMARY OF BILL: Reduces from seven to five the number of years of continuous employment as a county or municipal building inspector for a person to be certified without a test.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

Decrease Local Expenditures - Not Significant

Currently, local governments pay the testing fees. Under the provisions of this bill, some people would be exempt from test taking. To the extent that local governments would no longer have to pay the testing fees for such persons, this bill is estimated to be not significant.
